The Landscape

Introduction to factors, and why do they matter?

What is factor investing?

Factor investing involves selecting stocks based on certain characteristics or factors that are believed to contribute to their performance

Understanding the world of factors

	Size	Quality	Growth	Value	Momentum	Low Volatility
Investment Style
Brief	Market caps, growth potential for smaller companies	Sound balance sheet stocks	High growth with future potential	Relatively inexpensive stocks	Rising stocks	Lower variability of returns
Metrics	Market Cap	ROE, ROCE, Debt to Equity	Revenue, EBITDA, PAT Growth	Low valuation ratios like P/E, P/B	3m / 6m / 12m price change	Standard deviation of price returns
Example	Mazdock, Union Bank, MCX	Abbott India, Bajaj Finance, Persistent System	BSE Ltd, Navin Fluorine Ltd	PFC, ONGC, Coal India	Ather Energy, Laurus Labs, Sona BLW	Torrent Pharma, Cipla, Marico

History of factor investing

How do factors add value to your investment?

Disciplined Process

Defined investment rules with no emotional bias

Reduced Risk

Lower portfolio volatility, enhancing resilience during market downturns

Enhanced Returns

Aims for higher returns than traditional market-cap-weighted strategies

Tailored Solutions

solution aligned with investor goals

The three pillars of factor return

Risk Premium

Financing challenges, lower liquidity, and earnings volatility make smaller companies riskier – and create the potential for higher long-term returns.

Market Inefficiencies & Behavioral Biases

Overreaction drives Momentum; underreaction and anchoring benefit Quality and Value.

Business Fundamentals

Quality factors – high ROE, stable margins, low debt, strong cash flows.

Growth factors – earnings revisions, improving fundamentals, EPS growth.

Factor behavior across market phases

FACTOR PLAYBOOK

Where each factor works

Every factor earns its edge in a different market environment — from bull runs and recoveries to stable and turbulent phases.

Momentum

Captures market effectively during strong bull phases and recovery periods, riding uptrends with agility

Quality

Consistently delivers across cycles, especially resilient in bull and stable markets

Growth

Performs well in economic recoveries and bullish periods

Low Volatility

Provides a cushion during market turbulence, while maintaining composure in sideways trends

Value

Emerges as a strong performer in recoveries and prolonged bull runs

Factor performance has been marked by sharp swings

Q2 FY27 was a consolidation quarter after the sharp Q1 rebound. Growth was the only factor to remain positive, while Momentum, Quality and Value declined but still held up better than the broader index

Market context

Q2 FY27 marked a consolidation after the sharp Q1 rebound—not a return to broad risk-on conditions. BSE 250 LargeMidCap Index fell ~4.0%, while earnings visibility and stock selection became the key performance differentiators.

Leadership was narrow and sector-specific. IT, Pharma, Media and Metals advanced, while Construction, Power, FMCG and Financial Services weakened—arguing for selective participation rather than a broad cyclical allocation.

Factor performance

Growth was the only positive factor in Q2 FY27 at +1.3%. Momentum (-1.1%), Quality (-2.9%) and Value (-3.8%) also protected capital better than the BSE 250 LargeMidCap Index (-4.0%).

The medium-term hierarchy remains intact: over six months Growth returned 18.0%, Momentum 16.2% and Quality 12.9%, comfortably ahead of the benchmark's 8.1%. Momentum leads over twelve months at 10.0%, followed by Growth at 7.9%.

Strategy and allocation

Maintain a tactical overweight in Growth and a measured overweight in Momentum. Both offer superior earnings momentum and medium-term returns, but high valuations and 40% portfolio overlap call for adding on pullbacks rather than chasing performance.

Favor Healthcare and Pharma, Technology, Metals and selective Financials. Be more discriminating in Capital Goods, Energy and infrastructure-linked exposures until earnings delivery and market breadth strengthen.
