Inflation denotes the increase in prices of goods & services in the economy over a period of time. Let's see how the inflation impacted your daily lives over a decade :

The formula can be used to calculate the rate of return or the number of years required to double the money.

Two variables in the formula – the rate of interest and the number of years. If we know one variable, we can get the other one by just dividing the variable by 72.

For example, at 6% annualised returns, your money takes  $72/6$  or 12 years to double.

Similarly, if you want to double your money in 6 years, you need to earn  $72/6$  i.e. 12% returns on annual basis.

This is a generally applied formula and for illustration purpose only.
